

JOHNS HOPKINS
SCHOOL of ADVANCED
INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The Hopkins China Forum and

Young China Watchers

cordially invite you to:

China's Reform Agenda Going Forward

Duncan Innes-Ker

Senior Editor/Economist for Asia/Australia
Economic Intelligence Unit

Monday, November 17th, 2014

19:15pm – 20:30 pm

9 Qinghai Lu (just to the South of Nanjing West Road)
青海路 9 号, 近南京西路, 地铁二号线南京西路站

19:00 – Doors Open
19:15 – Lecture
20:00 – Q&A
20:30 – Mixer/Drinks/Dinner
21:30 – Live music at the Wooden Box

Please RSVP to Frank Tsai of Hopkins China Forum by writing to editor@shanghai-review.org.

The 3rd Plenum's reform agenda in 2013 was billed as the boldest in a generation, and serves as policy platform for the Xi administration's 10-year term. Many announcements have followed over the past year, on topics ranging from law and order to the Shanghai free trade zone, but will the reality of the reform agenda live up to the rhetoric? Whither China's reform agenda?

Duncan Innes-Ker heads up a team of analysts covering Asia in as Senior Editor/Economist for the Economist Intelligence Unit, and is responsible for the company's flagship China product, the China Country Report. He is a frequent commentator for news services and is often invited to share his perspectives with business executives and diplomats. Duncan joined the Economist Intelligence Unit in 2005. He studied at SOAS and Oxford University, and speaks Chinese. Duncan was born in Hong Kong and was most recently based in Beijing from 2008-11, but is currently based in London.

About Hopkins China Forum: Hopkins China Forum events are organized under the auspices of The Johns Hopkins University and its affiliated alumni associations worldwide. For more information on Hopkins events in Shanghai, please contact Frank Tsai at the Johns Hopkins University Alumni Association – Shanghai at editor@shanghai-review.org.

About Young China Watchers: Young China Watchers is an informal group of professionals living in and working on China. Through regular roundtables and talks, it provides a chance for dynamic individuals of all nationalities and employment backgrounds to interact, broaden their professional networks, and discuss the most pressing political, economic, and foreign policy issues relevant to China today. Please contact youngchinawatchers@gmail.com.