

The Thinkery - “Everything is Interesting”

Alessio Belotti & Rosanna Termino present: Social Robots: From Work to Bed?

Smart technologies are all around us and their evolution is amazing. Their applications reach every aspect of our daily life, building the shape of our world and playing an active role in defining our culture. The improvement of robots' skills is so high that we must start considering them as SOCIAL INTERACTING OBJECTS. What kind of impact will this R-Evolution have on human society? Will robots help us in our job or they'll just steal it from us? How will we interact with them? What are the risks of let an object take decisions that will affect our life? Who will be in charge of robots mistakes? Find an answer to these questions now will help us in the future to lead the Robot R-Evolution instead of being overwhelmed by it.
