

JOHNS HOPKINS
SCHOOL of ADVANCED
INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The Hopkins China Forum

cordially invites you to:

The State of U.S.-China Relations

David Lampton

Director of China Studies

Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS)

Kenneth Jarrett

President of the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai Former U.S. Consul General in Shanghai with reception and comments by

Ronald Daniels

President

The Johns Hopkins University

Monday, January 11th, 2016

18:30pm – 22:00 pm

cafésambal authentic malaysian
cuisine & bar

259 Jiashan Lu, Jiashan Market, Block A, No 37, near Jianguo Xi Lu
嘉善路 259 弄 37 号嘉善老市 A 栋, 近建国西路, 地铁九号线嘉善路站

18:30 – Doors Open

19:00 – Lecture

19:45 – Q&A

20:15 – Reception with remarks by Johns Hopkins University President Ronald Daniels

Please RSVP to Frank Tsai of Hopkins China Forum by writing to editor@shanghai-review.org.

In tonight's talk, Professor David M. Lampton, one of America's foremost academic authorities on Chinese politics and foreign policy, will discuss the current state of U.S.-China relations, including the challenges and future prospects of the bilateral relationship. Kenneth Jarrett, President of the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai, will then comment on Lampton's observations, and provide his insights on the history of the U.S.-China relationship over recent decades, based on his long record of engagement in the relationship, including as Consul General in Shanghai.

David M. Lampton is Professor and Director of China Studies at Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies, having also served as Dean of Faculty from 2004-2012. Formerly President of the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations, he is author of many books including Three Faces of Chinese Power: Might, Money, and Minds (2008), Same Bed, Different Dreams: Managing U.S.-China Relations (2002), and Following the Leader: Ruling China, from Deng Xiaoping to Xi Jinping (2014). He has also published extensively in Foreign Affairs, Foreign Policy, The American Political Science Review, The China Quarterly, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and many other publications popular and academic in both the Western world and in Chinese speaking societies. He has headed the China Studies programs at the American Enterprise Institute and The Nixon Center, having previously worked at the National Academy of Sciences. Lampton consults with government, business, and foundations, and serves on the board of several non-governmental and educational organizations, among which include Executive Committee of the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations. Lampton received his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Stanford University, where he served as a fireman, and has been in the enlisted and officer ranks of the U.S. Army Reserve.

Kenneth Jarrett is President of The American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai. Previously Mr. Jarrett was Chairman for Greater China of APCO Worldwide, a Washington-based public affairs consultancy, from October 2008 – July 2013. Before APCO, Mr. Jarrett was a U.S. diplomat for 26 years. His assignments included U.S. Consul General in Shanghai, Deputy Consul General in Hong Kong, and Director of Asian Affairs in the National Security Council, and served in Singapore, Manila, Beijing, Chengdu, and Washington, DC. He holds degrees from Cornell, Yale, and the National War College, and is a member of the National Committee of US-China Relations. He also attended the Hopkins-Nanjing Center in 1988-1989, and is among its most distinguished alumni in Shanghai.

About Hopkins China Forum: Hopkins China Forum events are organized under the auspices of The Johns Hopkins University and its affiliated alumni associations worldwide. For more information on Hopkins events in Shanghai, please contact Frank Tsai at the Johns Hopkins University Alumni Association – Shanghai at editor@shanghai-review.org.