

THE THINKERY – “EVERYTHING IS INTERESTING”

Graham Earnshaw

The founder of modern music in China? No, but ...

Date: March 29 Time: 7.30pm Place: the Fix, Jiashan Lu

Graham Earnshaw has been playing music in China since the 1970s and ran what was unquestionably the best rock band in the country for four years - there was no number two. In 1979, he was also probably the first foreign musician to play a live gig in Shanghai since the anti-Rightist campaign of 1956. And that's just the beginning.

Graham will share China musical stories from the 1970s through to the 2010s - five decades! - and will pepper the speech with renditions of some of his own songs.
