Publishing in the Grey by publisher Graham Earnshaw, introduces the back story on "outlier" publishing in China today, explaining the way it has worked in his publications and magazines from the 1990s to now, with anecdotes and information on the legal issues and requirements.

Graham Earnshaw is a publisher and writer with several decades of experience in the China world. He is publisher of Earnshaw Books and China Economic Review, and CEO of SinoMedia Ltd. He has written a number of books himself, including On Your Own in China (1984), Tales of Old Shanghai (2008) and an account of his continuing walk across China, The Great Walk of China (2010), and translated the Jin Yong Kung-Fu novel The Book and the Sword (2008). He has lived in the China world almost continuously since the mid-1970s and is a regular speaker at universities, schools, and businesses. He speaks Mandarin and Cantonese fluently, and his English is said to be acceptable
