

JOHNS HOPKINS
SCHOOL of ADVANCED
INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

The Hopkins China Forum and

The University of Chicago Alumni Club

cordially invite you to:

The Rooster Crows: What to Expect in China This Year and Beyond

Francis Bassolino

Founder and Managing Partner of Alaris Consulting
Hopkins-Nanjing Center '93
University of Chicago Booth MBA '02

Friday, March 17th, 2017
19:15pm –20:30 pm

cafésambal authentic malaysian
cuisine & bar

259 Jiashan Lu, Jiashan Market, Block A, No 37, near Jianguo Xi Lu
嘉善路 259 弄 37 号嘉善老市 A 栋, 近建国西路, 地铁九号线嘉善路站

Admission: 50RMB

19:00 – Doors Open
19:15 – Lecture
20:00 – Q&A
20:30 – Mixer

Please RSVP to Frank Tsai of Hopkins China Forum by writing to editor@shanghai-review.org.

Like the rooster, China is prancing on the world stage, preening itself, reveling in some successes of which it can be proud. But is this the pride before the fall? Will China succumb to one of the seven deadly sins while it gloats and the foundations upon which it was built collapses? Join us for a discussion that focuses on near term economic and political trends in the Chinese economy and an assessment of the opportunities and challenges for China over the next 12-24 months.

Francis Bassolino is Founder and Managing Partner of Alaris, a management consultancy based in Shanghai, specializing in generating proprietary information and working alongside management and investment teams to develop and implement strategic objectives. For the last thirty years, he has worked as an investor and advisor developing strategies, structures and implementation plans to find growth and cost reduction opportunities in Asia. Bassolino is a graduate of the Hopkins-Nanjing Center and holds an MBA from the University of Chicago's Booth School of Business.

About Hopkins China Forum: Hopkins China Forum events are organized under the auspices of The Johns Hopkins University and its affiliated alumni associations worldwide. For more information on Hopkins events in Shanghai, please contact Frank Tsai at the Johns Hopkins University Alumni Association – Shanghai at editor@shanghai-review.org.*