President Xi Jinping now as his "thought" written into the CPC Constitution, and he has his chosen lineup of senior Party leaders and military commanders. As President Xi in his speech promised to move China closer to the world's center stage, the U.S. seems to be retreating and ranting while Europe is bouncing around trying to find new political footing. How can we make sense of these fast-changing shifts?

James McGregor is Chairman of APCO Worldwide's greater China region and author of two highly regarded books: No Ancient Wisdom, No Followers: The Challenges of Chinese Authoritarian Capitalism, and One Billion Customers: Lessons from the Front Lines of Doing Business in China. Prior to joining APCO, Mr. McGregor was the founder and CEO of a China-focused consulting and research firm for hedge funds, a reporter for The Wall Street Journal and a chief executive of Dow Jones & Company in China. Mr. McGregor is also a former chairman of the American Chamber of Commerce in China, and has long served as a leader of AmCham's U.S. government relations. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, National Committee on U.S.-China Relations, the International Council of the Asia Society and a board member of the U.S.-China Education Trust. Mr. McGregor is a professional speaker, regular television and radio commentator and a contributor of essays and opinion articles for a variety of publications. He has lived in China for nearly three decades and is fluent in Chinese. He splits his time between Shanghai and Beijing.

China Crossroads hosts lectures and panels on all topics related to China, including foreign policy, business, and society, as well as those on other areas as they relate to China, the idea being that China is both already a "crossroads" of the world and itself at a "crossroads" in terms of its future global influence.
