This talk will discuss geopolitical perspectives on Europe from China, including those of the government, the scholarly community, and the speaker himself. Discussion will not be limited to relations with the EU, but Europe more generally, including non-EU states and Russia.

Ma Bin is Associate Professor of International Relations at Fudan University and Deputy Dean of the Center for SCO Studies. He was the SWIRE Academic Visitor at University of Oxford, and Visiting Scholar at Columbia University. His studies focus on Russian and Central Asian affairs, SCO, International Political Economics, foreign assistance and international development, and especially on the issues of China Railway Express and BRI infrastructure connectivity, FDI and political risks in recent years, had published two books, Reshaping the Heartland? U.S. Foreign Assistance to Central Asian Countries in the post-Cold War Era (2015), Political Risks of BRI Investment (2016), and many academic papers and comments.

China Crossroads hosts talks on all topics related to China, including business, foreign policy, and other areas as they relate to China, the idea being that China is both already a “crossroads” of the world and itself at a “crossroads” in terms of its future global influence.
