There is currently much debate whether the housing market in China is experiencing an oversupply, with concerns about excessive housing stock in some regions. This talk will discuss this important issue from an empirical perspective.

Alex Su is an Assistant Professor at International Business School Suzhou (IBSS) at Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University (XJTLU). He joined XJTLU in October 2020 after receiving his PhD degree from the University of Alicante in Spain. His main research areas include real estate economics, real estate finance and investments, as well as housing markets.

China Crossroads hosts talks on all topics related to China, including business, foreign policy, and other areas as they relate to China, the idea being that China is both already a “crossroads” of the world and itself at a “crossroads” in terms of its future global influence.
