Playful Learning Artist and Educator Charlie Reis will run an hour-long workshop on playful learning, including having all attendees make little books about playful learning. This will be interactive.

Charlie Reis is a self-taught artist who loves the process of making. He mostly draws and paints, but also sculpts and does some fashion, and is a committed dancer. He was formerly a lecturer and educational developer at Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University (XJTLU), where he was Director of the Educational Development Unit, Director of the Postgraduate Certificate in Teaching and Learning in Higher Education, and Founder of the China-based Association for Partnership in Educational Development (CAPED).

China Crossroads hosts talks on all topics related to China, including business, foreign policy, and other areas as they relate to China, the idea being that China is both already a “crossroads” of the world and itself at a “crossroads” in terms of its future global influence.
