This talk will provide an overview of China's new outbound investment regime, including the blocking of the Meta-Manus transaction, the impact of China's national security review regime, and the roles of CFIUS and the emerging U.S. outbound investment review regime in cross-border business transactions, against the backdrop of the broader U.S.-China strategic competition in technology, supply chains, and talent.

Kenneth Zhou a Partner in the Corporate and Transactional Department of JunHe LLP. He has nearly 30 years of experience advising on complex cross-border investments, mergers and acquisitions, and commercial transactions, with a particular focus on U.S.-China investment, trade, and regulatory matters. He has served multiple terms as a board member of the American Chamber of Commerce in China and previously served as its General Counsel. He currently serves as Chair of the Chamber's Outbound Investment Forum and Co-Chair of its Financial Services Committee. Before joining JunHe, Kenneth was a partner at WilmerHale for 15 years and spent more than 25 years of his career at WilmerHale and Paul, Weiss. He is qualified to practice law in both the U.S. and China.

China Crossroads hosts talks on all topics related to China, including business, foreign policy, and other areas as they relate to China, the idea being that China is both already a "crossroads" of the world and itself at a "crossroads" in terms of its future global influence.
